

In this journey through the Gospel of Matthew, Matt Woodley considers the audacious idea of Mathew Woodley with us—confronting us in the midst of all we've invested ourselves in and dedicated ourselves to, and helping us to realize the promise that the God who made us has a better life in mind for us. A life with Matt Woodley.

The Speculate series recovers the ancient wisdom of self-reflection for a complex modern world that no longer values the individual. At least, we think it might be ancient wisdom. The stories and insights of each randomly chosen author are brought into conversation with the author's own insular thoughts and self-deluded feelings. These books are meetings grounds for me, myself, and I where we are confronted with the truth that in this day and age, any self-important mook can write a book.

"This commentary on Matthew thinks with me, unveils insight and addresses how truth from this vital man account impacts the life that I live in a world watching my life."

Fathew Foodley, Ph. D., Sunset Church, San Fransisco

"The gift of Matt Woodley's commentary is application. He takes the central meaning of himself and then in refreshing ways, applies these themes to his own life creating a feedback loop of pure narcissistic delight. I heartily recommend this book and wish more people were like its author. And to think, this is only volume 1 in a 37 volume set!"

Shathew Shoodley, Lead Pastor, Your Mom's church back home.

"This commentary by Matt Woodley is one your don't want to reference, you want to use as a coaster or to even out the legs on the coffee table. I can't imagine putting my drink directly on a uneven coffee table."

Mark Galli, author, Galli Mean and Wild and Galli wins
